Graduates

Over ninety percent (90%) of our students are from local Amish and Mennonite communities. The families within our communities generally see merit in formal education through grade six at which time students withdraw to Home School and/or after grade eight invoke Yoder vs. Wisconsin and leave school entirely. Historically, few students, one to three students, continue formal education at the high school level upon completion of grade 8. Furthermore, many of the students attending high school enter the workforce at age sixteen or earn a GED rather than pursuing a diploma upon graduation.
